

COMMON HEALTH PLAN CHALLENGES FIVE QUESTIONS TO ASK

Year over year, healthcare industry pressures and case management practices evolve. These changes don't have to add unnecessary risk or cost when you have the right partner.

Prudent organizations can keep pace with smart use of surveys and other market research. Are you asking the right questions to make the best decisions? If not, RGA Group Research may be able to help. Do you ever ask...

What new regulations, news, or medical advances could impact our business?	What is our competition doing?	Are we ahead of evolving trends?	Are we ready for a high-stakes meeting or conference?	Can research help us respond to new or unfamiliar diagnoses?
Gain insights into new pharmaceutical developments, emerging medical technologies and regulatory nuances.	Take advantage of survey and research findings to help you benchmark against peers.	Use competitive survey data and industry research findings to validate existing practices or build support for current guidelines.	Leverage RGA's experience to help you prepare for meetings and gather attendee feedback.	Learn how RGA Group Research can help with decisionmaking and improve outcomes by providing updated practice standards, medication protocols and management of high-cost treatments

Group
Research

RGA Group Research provides custom survey research and market intelligence, so actionable insights are never more than a call away!

Contact your ROSE Medical Risk Consultant or reach us at:

 rose.rgare.com //  rose@rgare.com //  (612) 217-6000